I had many dreams of following in my father's footsteps by assuming the reins of Nero's. Those dreams took a turn when he sold the restaurant in 1976, but as luck may have it...my dreams are alive and well. That is why I am so excited to be able to bring back an updated version of my father's restaurant.

Past guests of Nero's Cactus Canyon visited because they were treated like family. I hear story after story of the fun times and memories people had at Nero's....be it their first date, where they had their first drink, how they got engaged there, or how they celebrated special events in their lives with Nero's. The list goes on and on. Now it is my turn to offer our past guests a chance to relive those memories and to provide the opportunity and venue for new memories to be created.

Enjoy your visit with us and please come back soon.
